HSC Ethics Committee Webinar Series

Clinical Education Centre for Nurses, Midwives and Allied Health Professionals

The HSC Regional Ethics Committee, in association with the Clinical Education Centre, are delighted to launch the first in a series of webinars focusing on ethics in practice

Doing Ethics in the Pandemic

Professor David Archard, Professor of Philosophy, QUB

Thursday, 6 May 2021 at 1.00pm

The HSC Regional Clinical Ethics Forum was established in 2020 and exists to provide policy advice on matters relating to ethical issues in clinical and social care decision-making; to promote and maintain ethical standards relating to practice across HSC organisation and sectors; to provide guiding principles in support of the resolution of ethical dilemmas in clinical decision-making; and to provide a forum for the identification of emerging ethical issues within HSC organisations and other jurisdictions.

Learning Outcomes:	• Awareness of role of ethics in policy making during the pandemic • Awareness of the principal ethical bodies playing a role during the pandemic • Awareness of the ethical principles invoked during the pandemic • Awareness of the problems associated with the role of ethics and ethical committees during the pandemic • Awareness of the differences in these respects between the UK and other countries
Audience:	Health & Social Care Practitioners
	David Archard is Emeritus Professor of Philosophy at Queen's University Belfast having previously worked at the Universities of Ulster, St Andrews, and Lancaster. He has published widely in applied ethics, political philosophy, and philosophy of law. He is Honorary Vice-President of the Society for Applied Philosophy, Chair of the Nuffield Council on Bioethics, and a Member of the Clinical Ethics Committee of Great Ormond Street Hospital.
