

Clinical Ethics Support (2023-24 Series)

a Liverpool Experience
Friday, 12th January at 12.30pm

The HSC Regional Clinical Ethics Forum was established in 2020 and exists to provide policy advice on matters relating to ethical issues in clinical and social care decision-making; to promote and maintain ethical standards relating to practice across HSC organisation and sectors; to provide guiding principles in support of the resolution of ethical dilemmas in clinical decision-making; and to provide a forum for the identification of emerging ethical issues within HSC organisations and other jurisdictions.

Aims & Learning Outcomes:

- Improving the understanding of the work of Clinical Ethics Committees
- Awareness of the ethical and practical challenges faced by clinical ethics committees
- Awareness of the range of ethical issues and dilemmas referred to or considered by clinical ethics committees
- Reflect on the implications of this experience for future development of ethics committees

Audience

Health & Social Care Practitioners

John Bridson is a Clinical Ethicist and current Chair of the Liverpool University Hospitals NHS FT Clinical Ethics Advisory Group. He also chairs his Trust's Organ and Tissue Donation Committee and has served on Health Research Authority Research Ethics Committees for almost twenty years. Having read Philosophy and Theology as an undergraduate he went on to train as a nurse and worked in the Liverpool Marie Curie Centre, during which time he completed postgraduate studies in Health Care Ethics. He also has clinical experience in non-malignant neuropathic pain research and in the role of addressing common cardiac misconceptions in the management of patients with chronic refractory angina. He has been a Trustee of the UK Clinical Ethics Network for ten years, in which capacity he and his CEAG colleagues will be hosting the UKCEN Annual Conference and workshop in Liverpool on 6-7th June 2024.
